13 April, 5002.

Dear Rusty:

Congratulations on embracing the institution of marriage. Although your letter has referred to wedding plans for yourself and your Sweetie, I can only assume that your Sweetie is of the human persuasion and that you are not, in fact, marrying a poodle, a shrub, a giraffe, or Michael Jackson. Since headwear production at the Beijeng No-Fool Factory is temporarily under labour negotiations, I have arranged for a shipment of No-Fool girdles to be sent directly to your home. Each girdle is proudly emblazoned with the international No-Fool logo. You may expect these to be delivered by the Ottawatonian Dog-Sled Company no later than October 1st, 2005.

We of the Fool's Society proudly acknowledge that every day is no better than any other for foolish exploits. We are glad, therefore, to be informed of the status of October No-Fool Day and will all breathe easier now that there is one day of the year where fools everywhere, especially Canadians, may take a well-deserved rest.

As for the concern that non-Canadians may not qualify for Foolish License, you may rest assured that Citizens of Your Country are, for the moment, safe in this regard. We consider ourself an international organization, one whose interests may soon be extended to off-world investments. No, we are not referring to the United States of Amnesia. As such, your official Foolish License is enclosed.

In return for this endowment of authority, you may wish to make a donation of any size to the Society. Any donation larger than $1000 will be gratefully accepted. Small bills only, please.

Regarding BASF, do note that our legal incorporated name is the O.H. Lettuce B. Fools Of: Society, a name fondly remembered but now rarely used as an infertile moniker for grant applications. In this light, your Society name appears much less stupid. For authoritative responses on Stupidity, you may consult St. Stupid of San Francisco (yes, there is a website).

Given your desire to expand knowledge of superior pranks, you may note that at www.museumofhoaxes.com you will discover a list of the 100 best April Fool's jokes of all time.

Foolish as ever,

Godfrey Daniels
