Dear Care Givers,

I am an adult. I work three days a week; however I am looking for something to occupy my time for the other four days each week. Can you outline a hypothetical program that your care center might design for me if I choose to enroll myself in your day care facility?

Please provide me with a complete list of your adult oriented games or craft projects and field trips, or any other activities designed for your adult crowd. Now when I say "adult oriented", I do not mean pornography and I just need to make that clear right off the top. I think that pornography and field trips to adult bookstores are an abomination and punishable by the eternal fires of damnation. I just want to be clear what I am talking about because I got some rather lewd material in the mail after I wrote to a place called Adult Playland a while back. I was merely looking for some fun supervised activities for adults and they sent me advertising for such absolute filth. Do you go to the zoo or to the theater or maybe a baseball game? That is the kind of adult activity I am talking about.

I think that a day care for adults is a wonderful idea and I commend you for your efforts. Why should school aged children be the only ones who get to go to day care. They have cartoons for adults, even though most people think of watching cartoons as an activity reserved exclusively for children. The Simpsons is chock full of jokes that are far above the understanding of the average child, and let's not even begin to talk about adult themes in the old Flintstones cartoons. They are also developing more products for adults that used to be strictly for children. I cannot even begin to tell you how much time I save each day and how much my productivity has increased now that I have stopped making multiple daily trips to the bathroom! I just put on a fresh adult diaper at the end of the day. This is a wonderful time saver that, until recently, had been wasted on babies. How twisted is that? We limit the use of our best time saving convenience product to little babies -- who really aren't all that busy anyway when you think about it.

So I say we should have even more activities, products, and services -- previously limited to children -- modified to serve adults! Let's not stop with adult day care! As adults, we make all the money! Why shouldn't we have a part in all the benefits? When is the last time the government took social security or medicare benefits out of a 10 year old kid's paycheck?

So, getting back to your day care center. I am able to drive myself, so I will not need to get a ride with my parents or ride a bus to and from your facility to my home, but I will need directions. I can get there at any time after 9:30 and will stay until 5:30, unless that costs extra to stay past a certain hour. I do not want to encounter any hidden extra charges for staying past the end of the business day, so please let me know your full rates up front and exactly what I am getting for my dollar.

I will require two meals a day (I'll eat breakfast before I come, except on pancake and blueberry muffin days) and I generally take a nap after lunch. I do not care for storytelling and will require a separate nap room if there is a story book hour after lunch for the other adults. Do I need to bring my own sleeping bag and blanket or are those provided by your day care? I will bring my own pillow if necessary. I do not want to get head lice. I am able to change my own adult diaper, but sometimes I require assistance in the event of any rashes or other skin irritations.

I am very excited about the possibility of joining Ru-Clare Adult Day Care. Would you please send me more information about all of your activities and pricing? I am very anxious to start picking out my schedule right away!

Sincerely,

p.s. As I said, I work three days a week, but I didn't tell you that I work as an attendant at a local food bank/soup kitchen. For health and safety reasons, we are required to wear hair nets or baseball caps at all times in the food preparation area. I look rather stupid in a hair net, especially with my bald spots, so I always wear a baseball cap to work. But since I am not required to wear any specific cap, I like to mix things up and wear a different one every day that I work there. On Mondays, I wear my Toledo Mud Hens baseball cap. On Wednesdays, I wear my fly fisherman baseball cap. On Fridays, I wear my Breathe Right® Nasal Strips cap. Now, my Wednesday fly fishing cap is beginning to get a bit worn out and ragged, so I need to replace it soon. If you send me a free Ru-Clare Adult Day Care baseball cap, I will gladly use it to replace my current Wednesday cap. Wednesday is the busiest day at the kitchen because we serve beer battered fish (thus the reason why I previously wore a fishing oriented cap). But all things change and now it is time for me to make a change. Please send me a free baseball cap!
