Dear Swingers Club:

A long time ago (back in February of last year), I mailed a letter to your club. I wanted to join your club and I wrote to you to find out how I do that, but my letter was returned to me with some kind of message about there being no mailbox at the above address. I was saddened to get my letter back unopened and undelivered. I would have tried to deliver it personally, but my car has not been running well and I did not want to take the chance of getting stranded somewhere between here and Zanesville. I like the actor Billy Zane, especially in his role in the movie Memphis Belle.

I wonder why you did not have a mailbox when you obviously have such a fabulous club for swings. I thought that you must get so many letters that you maybe just took the old mailbox down to replace it with a bigger box. If that is what happened, maybe it was better that my letter got returned to me rather than getting lost in an overflowing mailbox.

Or maybe your club mailbox was vandalized by street punks. When I was a little boy, I had a private clubhouse that the other neighborhood kids tried to burn down. I think they were just jealous of me and my clubhouse since they weren't members. To tell you the truth, I would have let them join as members if they had only asked. We were trying to encourage more membership since the only club members at the time were me and my stuffed bear, Kimbe. Did neighborhood kids burn down your mailbox?

I'm not sure what the real reason is that your mailbox was not set up in February 2005. I guess my last letter was just mistimed to be delivered on the day that you didn't have a mailbox up. I would have written back sooner, but I only have limited disposable income and I don't mail out as many letters since the price of stamps went up again earlier this year. That and the fact that I forgot to write back to you.

Anyway, I decided to include a copy of the letter I wrote to you last year with this new letter, so you can see how enthusiastic I am about swinging without repeating everything all over again. A friend of mine suggested that I send this 2006 letter to you by certified mail, which might increase my chances of actually getting it delivered in the event that your mailbox is still down. Certified mail is more expensive than regular mail, but if I tweak my mailing budget here and there, I can afford it. I just hope that this is not money spent in vain and that this letter actually gets to you this time.

For purposes of my membership application, I am still quite an active swinger and I am still looking for a club to join where I can experience all types of swinging excursions. I am willing to pay reasonable dues, provided that I get value and variety for my money. Do you do any tours of the county fairs or amusement parks? I know that they usually have fun attractions for swingers there.

Does your club have a secret knock? I know that if it does, you won't be able to disclose it to me until after I am accepted and initiated as a full member. I hope you have a cool secret knock! Please send me a membership application and let me know what exactly the problem was with your mailbox in February 2005.

Sincerely,

Rusty Lucas

p.s. I asked in my last letter for a free Playtime Adult Swingers Club baseball cap, with your club logo and address across the front. Do you have any of those left? I hope so! Please send me a free cap. I see people around here with NRA baseball caps and AARP baseball caps and ATF baseball caps. They are all card carrying and cap wearing members of other social clubs. I want to display my new club membership with pride just like they do.
